Remember that each ordered pair is of the form $(\cos x, \sin x)$. Remember $\tan x$ is $\sin x$ divided by $\cos x$. Also, this is a Unit circle, meaning that the radius is 1, centered on a coordinate axis. Use the Pythagorean theorem to prove these values to yourself. This really is a quick reference tool worth knowing.